Re: ceramic vs film capacitors for < 1 uF 450V-630V « Reply #1 on: June 03, 2015, 06:00:43 pm » I would go for film units from around 10n to 1uF, and under that 1kV ceramic capacitors. that way you have good stability with the low value ceramic units, and reasonable size for the film ones.

This capacitor type is not polarized, which makes them suitable for AC signal and power use. Film capacitors can be made with very high precision capacitance values, and they retain that value longer than other capacitor types. This means that the aging process is generally slower than in other capacitor types, such as the electrolytic ...
